Interactive Activities - Descriptions 2018

Almost Disney

An immersive art installation that rethinks your ordinary by transforming what you know into the unknown.

Influences of the Sympathetic Nervous System

This interactive Mr. Potato Head video art installation utilizes projected video and invites participants to push arcade buttons and create their own abomination.

Code4Change

Have you ever thought about the importance of learning to code? Code4Change has! This student-run and Lincoln-based organization has got it all figured out. Pull up a seat and learn the basics of coding - it's easy and it's fun. Don't miss this chance to jump start your coding skills!

Civil Discourse

March on up to learn how to make your own voice have power. Take part in an interactive presentation that will quickly and easily answer how to start a political movement as well as how to have a balanced and successful conversation.

Entrepreneurs Unite!

Have you ever made a lemonade stand or thought about starting your own business? Even if you haven't come and find out what it takes to use your entrepreneurial strengths effectively. Have fun with the Clifton Strengths Center and Gallup to discover your talents and learn how to utilize the best of you in the business world and beyond.

Taste the Weeds

Mmm...? Feast your eyes and your lips on some truly tasty weeds, compliments of TEDx speaker Jack Rodenburg. I guess those pesky weeds may not be so bad after all.

Food Salons

Travel the world through an expert selection of delicacies from all over the globe! From jambalaya and bubble tea to sushi, egg rolls, and crab rangoon, sample exciting cultural cuisine and expand your food palette in the process.

Generous Store

Use the promise of a good deed to shop at our exclusive "Generous Store". Choose from a list of tasks or make up your own spectacular good deed. Connect through social media - shout it out and be part of creating a movement. Help make our community a better place one good deed at a time! #GenerousStoreLNK

Human Foosball

Exactly what it sounds like. Because smacking a ball back and forth is so much more fun when it's life sized.

Yes, and...Improv!

Come play with us! Learn how the principles of improv can be used in your daily life as a skill - and have a blast doing it. Now this is F-U-N!

Indigo Bridge Bookstore

One of the coolest bookstores in Lincoln is setting up shop here! Come check them out!

Knitting Bomb

Say what? A knitting bomb - isn't yarn for cats? Check out this world-wide pheno menon and leave your own mark.

TALLY HO! LAUNCH into Leadership

What's the buzz about LAUNCH Leadership? Find out why everyone wants to hang with these amazing movers and shakers. Join the fun, feel good, and keep the fire!

Life Size Jenga

Life-sized what? Who knew?! The Lincoln Children's Museum, of course! Play a life-size version of the classic board game and try not to topple the giant tower or you lose!

Shake it up!

Take science into your own hands and witness the power of technology. Here, you can detect methane pollution with a little help from our friends at Li-COR, a local biotech company.

Super-Spy Particle Detector

Ever wish you could crack unsolvable cold cases? Do you have gadget envy when you watch spy movies? Well, you are in luck! Sneak on over and learn how to detect particles too small for the human eye.

Freeze Frame! Photo Booth

Capture a memory of your time at TEDxYouth@Lincoln. Take home fun photos galore. Costumes and props encouraged!

Making No Sense at All

Our senses are powerful. What happens when they are not fully functional? Here, we explore the loss of senses and see what follows. From taste to touch, limited perception drastically changes the world we think we live in.

Speaker Lounge

Have a burning question after seeing a TEDx talk or performance? Maybe you just want to meet our inspiring speakers and performers one on one! Come on down to chat and learn more about the topics that they have devoted so much time to mastering.

Social Life

In this day and age, social media IS currency, but have you ever thought about using "real" currency to up your social media cred? Check out this new concept by SociLife and watch the your "likes" and "shares" soar.

Is This The Real World?

Or just a fantasy? Enter a virtual reality world with Oculus VR headsets and Google Expeditions with a take-it-home with you headset courtesy of the Johnny Carson Center for Emerging Media Arts (now THAT is a mouthful!). Don't miss your chance, sign up for time slots at the registration table!
